Unit-III

3. Write a precis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title : 10

It is hardly necessary to emphasize that one cannot set any goals that would be equally meaningful to all women; for where classes and class interests operate in the society, it would be hazardous to claim that women are women first and last that class (or even cultural and ethnic distinctions) are irrelevant so far as women's cause is concerned: At the same time it would be wrong also to say that there is nothing special about women that should warrant separate treatment and that women could be subsumed in the general framework that is used for understanding inequality in the society and for explaining skewed benefit of development.

Unit-IV

4. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

(a) Like meditation, yoga is an extremely popular and effective method for becoming a more relaxed and easy going person. For ages yoga has been used to clear and free the mind, giving people the feel to ease and tranquility.

Although yoga is physical in nature, its benefits are both physical and emotional. On the physical side it strengthens the muscles and the spine, creating flexibility and ease of motion. On the emotional side, yoga is a great stress reducer. It balances the body, mind, spirit giving you a feeling of ease and peace.

The stretches focus on very specific places like the neck, back, hips, legs and spine, while stretching the focus is on the action. The effects of yoga are amazing. In a few minutes one feels more open, peaceful, energetic and stress free. Rest of the day is more focussed and easy.
