2. (a) Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :
- It was agreed that the individual should not be sacrificed and indeed the real social progress will come only when opportunity is given to the individual to develop provided the individual is not a selected group but comprises the whole community. The touchstone, therefore, should be how far any political and social theory enables the individual to rise above his petty self and thus think in terms of the good of all. The law of life should not be competition and acquisitiveness but cooperation. The good of each contributing to good of all. The rights will follow the performance of the duties. We have to give a new direction to education and evolve a new type of humanity.
